Hi Tom:

I will go back through my calendar and give you the dates of meetings that Sara, Heather and I have had where this was the exact topic of discussion. We noticed gaps in the core competencies themselves, in the mapping of programs and courses to these core competencies, and how to move forward from here. During this year's unit planning process, we felt we could provide this information to the faculty and have them review their linkages. These conversations occurred during lunch meetings that I've been having with Sara and Heather; these meetings occurred on March 22, April 11, July 11 and July 23.

Hi Kurt-

Can you send me an email stating that the SLO Assessment Committee and/or the SLO Committee have discussed the use of mapping reports in tracdat to identify the weak links between SLO levels, and that you intend to work with faculty to modify course and program SLOs so as to strengthen these linkages? I didn't find any evidence to support said claim in the minutes of the SLO committees.

Thanks,

Tom

With the completion of this mapping, the College used its large repository of direct assessment results to assess successfully all higher-level program and institutional-level SLOs (III.15). In addition to the College's incorporating these data into ongoing planning processes (see next section), the SLO Committee and SLO Assessment Committee intend to use these reports to identify the weak links between these SLO levels and work with faculty to modify course and program SLOs so as to strengthen these linkages (III.16).
